2. Organizing Department / Cell : Department of Botany
3. Date/Duration : January 31, 2021
4. Number of Participants : 12

5. Objective of the Program:

- To observe, collect, and identify medicinal plants in Netrahat
- To study the environment and habitat of the collected species
- To document the collected species through photography
- To collect and preserve specimens for further analysis

6. Detail Description of the Event:

On January 31, 2021, the group arrived in Netrahat at 10 o'clock. The professors provided instructions regarding the journey, guidelines, and the purpose of the trip. The group stayed at Residential School Netrahat, where the guards provided guidance on collecting various species, especially medicinal plants. The guidance and information proved to be invaluable during the field visit. The main objective of the trip was to collect ten species of medicinal plants, and every student actively participated in the collection process.

7. Outcome of the Event:

The correlation between classroom learning and field knowledge became clear, emphasizing the importance of preserving and utilizing natural environments for the study and conservation of plants.
