One Day Webinar on “Information Access and Analysis in the Innovation and Research Value Chain” was organized by Department of Geography on April 08, 2020 for the Staff and students of the College. The webinar was themed on Information Access and Analysis in the Innovation and Research Value Chain. The main aim behind organizing such a workshop, in addition to the annual Patent Search and Analysis workshop, was to give a hands-on exposure to the diverse information sources/databases that may be accessed in various subjects of interest in Science, Technology, Humanities and Languages etc. Fr. Gaudentius Kongari, who is one of pioneers and experts working in the field of information access and technologies, and Fr. P. J. James, deliberated speeches upon various topics. The topics of discussion ranged from the Art of Searching: Non-Patent Literature which covered broadly the issue of conducting targeted search of databases for contextual information with special emphasis on approaches, strategies and methods, to Access of E-Resources.
